September 2025

Ah fall! It comes with a cold gust of air and brings so much change to the world around us. Hunting season and harvest always makes me glad I live where I do. I am looking forward to all the different events that are ahead and pray that the Lord would bring many into the ministry. God has taught me much in the last few months, which I hope will aid me in my work for Him. Life as a father has showed me that I still have so much to learn. God is good!

I have been able to increase my hours with NAIM! Thank you so much for your support and your prayers. I still have much to raise but going up to 25 hours a week is a good step in the right direction. Thanks to the matching grant, which is still available, I've been able to increase my hours each week. Every dollar raised will be matched which allows me to continue ministering with NAIM in the recruitment ministry. God has truly blessed me with wonderful people to surround me and push me ahead to better serve Him.

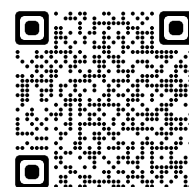

It seems like so long ago that I wrote my last newsletter with the news of my newly arrived son. As you can imagine life with a newborn has rattled things up a little! We love him dearly and couldn't be happier. My wife has recovered well from the c-section, and we are getting into the new rhythm of parenting and life with David. We got to spend some wonderful time with family this summer enjoying the lake and holiday time. Thank you everyone for your support and your prayers.
