New Year, New Perspectives;
More School, More Opportunities

Greetings from unusually warm New Mexico!!! It is February and we've had a very mild winter compared to years past. The temperatures have been cold, but the snow has been very sporadic. The warmer weather has made our heating bills go down a bit, which is good for us, but that's not good for our trees. The deep cold keeps the bug population down and our trees more resilient. Pray that we can get the moisture we need for our climate.

We had our family Christmas gathering in January at my sister Lois' home in Phoenix, AZ. It was great to have all of the family together. The boys flew back for a couple of weeks and it was wonderful to have them here for a little while. I'm learning to cherish the moments we get to have as a family together. The time together went way too fast, and I'm thankful to the Lord that we can still get together. I am so grateful to see how the Lord is at work in their lives in their respective vocations. They are both learning and living and trusting the Lord in their jobs, even though they both are doing it in very different circumstances. I am so very proud of them and who the Lord is making them into. Pray that they continue to seek the Lord and His leading.

Nanette is continuing her Precepts Bible Study in Window Rock, AZ and she sponsored a Christmas tea party with her group this past month. Josiah, Caleb and I were able to play some Christmas music for the ladies' tea gathering and we helped them out with set up, serving, and clean up. She continues to care for her mom and Mildred is still doing quite well.

I am deep into the Masters of Christian Ministry Program at Liberty University and I can tell you this: I've only taken a couple of classes and I am learning so much and loving it even more.

There's much to be said for a 58 year old missionary trying to get a graduate degree, but suffice to say, I'm so glad that I'm still able to do the work. Special thanks to my professors and fellows classmates who have all had an impact on my life, but the utmost thanks and love to my Savior, Jesus Christ, who through these classes has rekindled my desire to study the Word, to learn my vocation better, and brought me closer to Him.

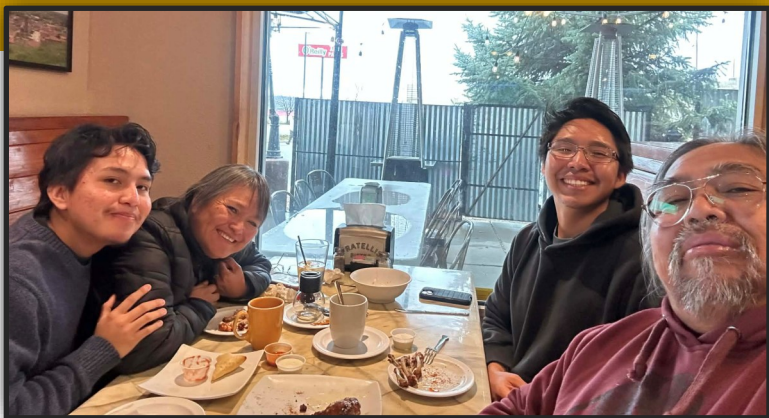

Thank you all again for your support of us and of NAIM. Thank you for continued prayer support for us, for our children, for all our endeavors and for impacting Native kids and teens for the sake of the Gospel.....thanks, guys...!!!

Nanette's Corner

Brothers and Sisters in Jesus,

I am so grateful for your continual prayers for us. I took a 4-month break from ministry at BABR for some self-care and some time to reset some things in my heart and my soul. I realized I needed some rest time in Jesus and, with our supervisor's permission, I took a break. It has been a great season of letting Jesus pour into me. While I was on this break, I felt led by the Lord to study the book of John, which I am now leading for the ladies in my Bible group to study.

Since October of 2025, the ladies from the previous year wanted to continue meeting for our Bible study group. Keep praying for these ladies that they will let the Word of God transform their lives, their families, and their community as we study the book of John. Pray that they will also find a church that teaches the Word of God and bring stability to their walk with Jesus. And pray for me that as I mentor them that I will be led by the Holy Spirit in wisdom, knowledge and understanding to lead them in the right way.

As of the end of January 2026, I have finished my break and have resumed ministry at Broken Arrow. Our staff at BABR is already hard at work preparing for summer staff and spring work teams. I need prayer as I prepare to lead our summer staff in discipleship and mentoring. May the light of Christ shine through me to the lost and be an encouragement to our summer staff and the ladies in my Bible study.

Blessings in Jesus,

Nanette
